by fire Saturday, while the mother and father were at work in Burlington.

Their five children, who range in age from two and a half to ten years, in some way set the house on fire. The family is in poor circumstances financially.

Bennington had a $3,000 fire Monday night in the Hawks block which burned from 10:30 o'clock to 4 o'clock Tuesday morning. The lower floor of the building was occupied by a drugstore and a Chinese restaurant, and on the upper floor were two tenements. Miss Mary Martin, the occupant of one tenement, was nearly suffocated by smoke when taken from her room. The loss on the building is $2,000, on the drugstore $1,000 and on the rest of the contents, $300.

At a meeting of the North Bennington village improvement society Monday evening, Dr. J. B. Woodhull presented the opinion that for $140,000 the village might be equipped with a good water system that would eliminate so much typhoid fever as that village and South Shaftsbury have been subject to in the last 20 years. Dr. Woodhull asserted these epidemics had cost the towns affected at least $70,000, and that tuberculosis had cost them a similar sum.

W. H. Gay, alias George M. Raymond, was arrested last week at Hartland Four Corners for passing a worthless check, drawn on the Woodstock National bank, payable to George M. Raymond, and signed by Forest J. Whitcomb. This check for $31 was tendered at Owen A. Cobb's store at Bridgewater Corners and was cashed. Gay leaving the goods he had purchased and taking the balance of the check after the goods were paid for, $20.25. After it was learned that the check was bogus, he was arrested and at first asserted his innocence, but later acknowledged his guilt. Gay is 23 years old, said he lived in Syracuse, N. Y., and had been working for the Bridgewater Woolen company.

Norman M. Hoisington, next, to the oldest man in Woodstock, died at the Mary Hitchcock hospital in Hanover, N. H., Nov. 29, aged 86 years. Mr. Hoisington, who lived at the farm at the time of the rush for gold in 1849. Most of his life was spent at the tinmith's trade, except when he was serving in the Civil war.

Luther B. Spaulding committed suicide in North Hartland last week by taking laudanum. He had mourned the death of his wife and after his death a writing was found in which he made all arrangements for his funeral, which was to be an hour just a year after that of his wife. He selected his bearers, made all necessary arrangements for the funeral and left money for his board bill.

Capt. Robert James White, a veteran steamboat man of Lake Champlain and for 15 years inspector of hulls for the U. S. local inspectors of steamboats died Monday at the home of his son, Capt. Frank G. White, in Burlington.

Captain White was born in Shelburne in 1829, and was the son of Capt. Lavater White, a master builder of many of the largest steamers in the days of wooden hulls. He was educated in the common schools of Shelburne and at the Burlington academy. He was always greatly interested in ship building, his boyhood being passed in the environment of Shelburne harbor. He was captain of the steamer A. Williams and several other steamers of the Champlain Transportation company.

A TIZ Foot Bath Is One of the Joys of Living.

A Free Trial Package Proves It.

TIZ shrivels a hard corn into nothing, drives away bunions, reduces your feet to fit your shoes and enables you to run like a deer or stand and drill like a soldier. Get a box of TIZ, 25 cents at any drugstore, department or general store, or send to Walter avenue, Chicago, Ill., for a free trial package. Not to try TIZ is to invite misery. Don't waste time with substitutes.

Could Shout for Joy.

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism. I had been at the hospital at the time I suffered for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice, and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters have no equal. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50 cents at the Red Cross Pharmacy.—Adv.
